I'm _____ the on - ly one!

(TIGGER bounces off. POOH looks up at the sky.)

POOH

It's practically a quarter to lunchtime now! I bet Christopher Robin has some honey. He always has a snack or two for Pooh.

(goes to Christopher Robin's tree house)

Christopher Robin? Yoo hoo, it's Pooh!

(Four more NARRATORS enter – GREEN, BLUE, INDIGO and VIOLET.)

BLUE

Pooh looked really sad for a moment.

INDIGO

Then he decided that if he knocked, maybe Christopher Robin would hear him.

(POOH knocks.)

GREEN

The knocking made a note fall to the ground right at Pooh's feet.

(POOH looks down.)

VIOLET

To your left.

(POOH looks to his right.)

No, Pooh, your other left.

(POOH turns to see the note and picks it up.)

INDIGO

Pooh was very puzzled by the note.

POOH

Well, it is a very puzzling note.

(PIGLET enters.)

PIGLET

Hello, Pooh.

POOH

Hello there, Piglet. Say, Piglet, you haven't got any honey on you, have you?

PIGLET

(examining his shirt)

Why, do you see some?

POOH

No. I was just hoping.

PIGLET

What's that you've got in your hand, Pooh?

POOH

It's a very puzzling note.

PIGLET

Maybe you should take it to Rabbit. He's very good at puzzles.

POOH

That's just what I was thinking.

GREEN

That isn't what Pooh was thinking at all.

POOH

Hey!

BLUE

Well, it wasn't, Pooh.
